

Subject: CARES Act provisions affecting 403b retirement plans

As a participant in the FGCU 403b Plan, we want to make you aware of the options available to you as a result of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act.

The act was signed into law by the president on March 27 and provides options for you to consider as you navigate financial decisions in the coming months. As always, we recommend reaching out to your financial consultant to review your current situation—along with short- and long-term financial goals—before making any decisions.

Florida Gulf Coast University has adopted the following CARES Act provisions for the 403b retirement plan:

- Penalties and withholding are waived for qualified distributions from retirement plan accounts
- Retirement plan loan limits have been increased
- Optional suspension of required minimum distributions (RMDs) for 2020

In addition to these CARES Act relief measures, the deadline for 2019 Individual Retirement Account (IRA) contributions has been extended from April 15 to July 15, 2020.

What does this mean for you?

We know that keeping you and your family healthy and safe amid the challenges surrounding COVID-19 needs to be your first priority. That's why we're working with our retirement plan partners to break down the provisions in the Act to make it easier to understand so you can determine if they may be right for you.

Retirement plan withdrawals and loans

Who is eligible?

You are considered eligible to take distributions/loans from your retirement plan if any of the below conditions are met:

- You have been diagnosed with COVID-19 by a test approved from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- You have a spouse or dependent who has been diagnosed with COVID-19
- You suffer financial consequences as a result of quarantine, employment furlough, layoffs, reduced work hours or cannot work due to lack of child care as a result of coronavirus
- You experience a financial loss to an individually owned or operated business that is caused by a closing or reduction of hours due to coronavirus
- Other factors as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate

How can the act help if you are eligible?

Penalties and withholding are waived for qualified distributions from retirement plan accounts

Provided the above eligibility criteria are met, the CARES Act waives the 10% early withdrawal penalty and eliminates the 20% withholding for coronavirus-related distributions of up to $100,000 across qualified retirement plans and IRAs. Note: While the 20% withholding will not be taken from distributions, you will have the option to add withholding if you want.

Distributions will be subject to taxation, and you will have the option to pay taxes due over a three-year period. We suggest you consult with your personal tax advisor.

The act also allows you to reinvest withdrawn funds within three years regardless of that year's contribution limit, making it easier to replace the amount of your distribution in your retirement account.

Retirement plan loan limits are increased

Maximum retirement plan loan limits have been increased from $50,000 or 50% of vested account balances to $100,000 or 100% of the vested account balance for loans made within 180 days of enactment of the CARES Act on March 27.

This is also dependent on FGCU's loan policy, the type of loan, the number of loans allowed and limits offered within our plan. We currently allow participants a maximum of two loans.

If you choose to take a loan, you will be asked to self-certify that you meet the requirements for a coronavirus-related loan. The loan approval process will remain the same as it does for non-coronavirus-related loans.

If you have existing retirement plan loan payments, you may be able to defer payments for one year and extend the term of your loan by one year.

If you have questions related to taking a loan or the possibility of deferring payments to an existing retirement plan loan, please consult with the appropriate financial vendor listed below.

Suspension of required minimum distributions (RMDs)

To help provide relief for those required to take RMDs, the CARES Act allows you to cancel your 2020 RMD payments and restart them in 2021.

- If you already have an RMD payment scheduled for this year:
You have the flexibility to cancel it.
- If you have already started receiving your RMD this year:
You have the option to repay it as a rollover.
- If you have not set up your RMD this year:
Based on the CARES Act, your financial vendor cannot set up new RMD payments. If you still need the money, you can take a withdrawal. The quickest way to have this processed is with your financial vendor – contact listed below.

Other changes to consider

Tax filing and payment changes

The Treasury has extended federal tax filing and IRA contribution deadlines. The federal deadline for filing a 2019 tax return—and any corresponding 2019 IRA contributions outside of your retirement plan—has been extended to July 15, 2020.

Student loans and stimulus payments

Borrowers who have certain federal student loans have the opportunity to defer payments until later in the year, and qualified taxpayers meeting specific single/joint filing criteria may be eligible to receive stimulus payments. Please consult your personal tax advisor or your loan provider for additional information.
